SAVE THE DATE! 72nd Annual Conference & Meeting

October 10th & 11th, 2016 | Corvallis, OR

OPHA 2016 Keynote Speakers:

MONDAY, OCTOBER 10th - George E. Luber, PhD

George E. Luber, PhD is an epidemiologist and the Associate Director for Climate Change in the Division of Environmental Hazards and Health Effects at the National Center for Environmental Health, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. His research interests in environmental health are broad and include the health impacts of environmental change and biodiversity loss, harmful algal blooms, and the health effects of climate change. Most recently, his work has focused on the epidemiology and prevention of heat-related illness and death, the application of remote sensing techniques to modeling vulnerability to heat stress in urban environments, and climate change adaptation planning.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11th - Dr. Helen Bellanca

Dr. Helen Bellanca is a family physician and a public health advocate. She is currently the Associate Medical Director of Health Share of Oregon, the state's largest CCO. Dr. Bellanca has experience and expertise in reproductive health, maternity care, early childhood initiatives and health care reform. She is known for her work on the One Key Question initiative for pregnancy intention screening and Project Nurture which is a model of integrated substance use treatment in maternity care.
