

OPHA Awards

Criteria for choosing awardees

Lifetime Achievement Award – This award will be given to a person who has demonstrated a lifetime commitment to public health and to the improvement of health in Oregon

- Longevity of work in the public health field
- Demonstrates creative and innovative thinking.
- Led at least one successful effort to improve public health.
- Led at least one successful effort to improve health policy.
- Voluntary involvement in public health efforts outside job expectations.
- Nurtures future public health leaders.
- Engages partners outside the public health system to reach public health goals.

Policy Champion of the Year Award – This award will be given to a person or organization that has made an outstanding contribution to advancing public health policy in Oregon

- Led at least one successful effort in the past year to pass legislation that is likely to improve public health.
- Has stated goals to work toward improving Public Health policy.
- Involved in more than one effort to pass public health legislation.
- Has developed partnerships with public health entities and experts to inform their work.

Emerging Leader – This award will be given to a person that has demonstrated leadership, innovation, and creativity in the beginning of his or her public health career. Alternatively, this award may also be given to an organization that has demonstrated leadership, innovation and creativity at the onset of their organizational development.

- Plans to continue work in the public health field.
- Demonstrates creative and innovative thinking.
- Led at least one successful effort to improve public health.
- (For an individual) Voluntary involvement in public health efforts outside job expectations.