Wingspan Conference Room AB	Sponsor Presentation - Metopio From Insight to Impact: Exploring Health Data and Regional Collaboration in Action Discover how data and collaboration can work hand-in-hand to drive meaningful public health change. In this hands-on session, you'll explore the Washington County health atlas—designed to make local trends and disparities easy to understand and act on. Bring your own laptop and dive into real-world data with guidance from experts and peers. Whether you're just getting started or deepening your data skills, this session offers a supportive space to explore, ask questions, and collaborate. But we won't stop at data exploration—you'll also get an overview of the national landscape, see how data is spurring collecting action and impact, and hear use cases of community engagement and sustainable funding. Leave feeling inspired with practical tools and ideas to: 1. Use data for planning, storytelling, and decision-making 2. Foster cross-sector collaboration rooted in the local context 3. Apply lessons from other states to strengthen your data strategy Come curious, collaborate, and walk away ready to turn insight into impact. Speakers: Angie Grover, Co-founder and CCO Metopio; Ryan Ames, Washington County Health and Human Services; Evelyn Quarshie, Washington County Health and Human Services
